

Northeastern University + Lesbians Who Tech & Allies

2022 Edie Windsor Coding Scholarship Partnership

Computer science (CS) is everywhere and at Northeastern University's Khoury College of Computer Sciences, we believe that CS is for everyone. For us this means providing programs for people who are underrepresented in CS that deliver the academic rigor, support, and the community needed to break into the field of technology, regardless of background.

We are excited to partner with Lesbians Who Tech and invite you to engage with us so that we can show you what Northeastern can do to help further advance your career aspirations. In order to make our renowned Align program more accessible for more people, we also provide dedicated scholarships through the Edie Windsor Scholarship program.

Benefits for Scholars

- Access to graduate bridge degree programs in computer and data science for people with an undergraduate degree in a non-technical field
- Support of the Lesbian Who Tech & Allies team and the community of past and present Edie Windsor Coding Scholarship recipients
- College partner offers tuition reduction to Edie Windsor Coding Scholarship winners

Benefits for Lesbians Who Tech + Allies

- An increase in both visibility and opportunities for queer women and non-binary people in tech
- Strong relationships with college partners with educational opportunities for emerging tech leaders
